January Reading Challenge!

To celebrate the National Year of Reading, there will be a new reading challenge each month. Show us your completed challenge on Dojo (message or photo) and be entered into a monthly prize draw.

Read a new type of text this month—something you've never read before!

It could be a graphic novel, magazine, website article, recipe...

Mrs. Ibbotson's Reads of the Month

David Litchfield's illustrations are always stunning, and this picture book is no exception. Each spread offers beautiful images to be pored over, spotting new details with every read. A wonderful story about acceptance and understanding others.

This illustrated chapter book series is perfect for fans of Dogman and Captain Underpants. It offers plenty of exciting adventures and laugh-out-loud moments, alongside hilariously gruesome cartoons.

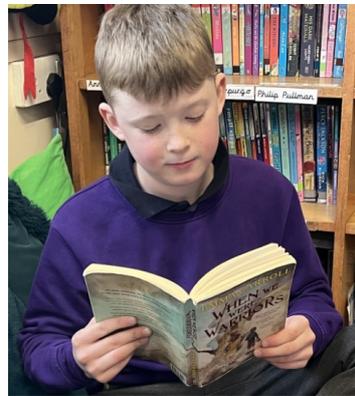

This is a fantastic graphic novel aimed at older readers. It follows Frankie through the challenges of school and family life through engaging illustrations. I really enjoyed getting to know Frankie!

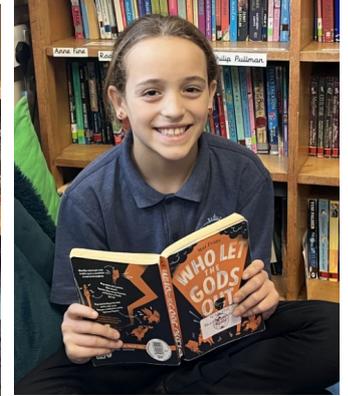

What are we reading in Oak Class?

"I love reading 'The Hobbit' because it takes me away to a fantasy world."—Martha

"I really like this story because it's a historical wartime story and it's one of a series." - Thomas

"This is one of my favourite books because it has lots of adventures in it." - Louise
